Arch MI Clarifies That Income Derived from Accumulated Assets Is Ineligible for Mortgage Insurance

Effective immediately, income calculated from accumulated assets, also known as asset depletion income, is ineligible for insurance under both the Arch Mortgage Insurance Company (Arch MI) EZ Decisioning℠ and Standard Underwriting Program Requirements.

Arch MI continues to align with Agency requirements for other eligible income sources, including interest, dividends, capital gains and restricted stock units.

The Arch MI Underwriting Manual and related quick reference materials will be updated in a future release to reflect this clarification.
